PREMIER MCGUINTY AND PREMIER CHAREST TO HOST NATIONAL STAKEHOLDER SUMMIT ON POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION AND SKILLS

OTTAWA, February 23, 2006 — On behalf of the Council of the Federation, Ontario Premier Dalton McGuinty and Quebec Premier Jean Charest will co-host Competing For Tomorrow – a national stakeholder summit on postsecondary education and skills on February 24, 2006 in Ottawa.

Also attending will be Manitoba Premier Gary Doer, New Brunswick Premier Bernard Lord, Newfoundland and Labrador Premier Danny Williams, Yukon Premier Dennis Fentie, and Northwest Territories Premier Joe Handley.

Provincial and territorial governments are committed to strengthening Canada's most important competitive advantage – our people. Premiers recognize that governments, educational institutions and the private sector must work together to develop and implement a plan for higher education and skills training for Canadians.

Competing for Tomorrow will bring together a broad cross-section of stakeholders, including student, college, university, business and labour representatives, to examine key issues and challenges they are facing in postsecondary education and skills training.

These discussions will guide the Council of the Federation in developing a pan-Canadian strategy for postsecondary education and skills training for Canada and Canadians to thrive in the 21st century economy.
